Introduction

Objectives of the dissemination activities:

- Informing the academic staff, and students about the project objectives, outcomes and results after the second year of the project life; and encouraging them to give their inputs and thoughts about the project
- Informing all the students about new information concerning the programme of student and staff mobility within the Erasmus + programme – Special Mobility Strand,
- Informing and encouraging academic staff in active participation in the Project activities.

Short description of activities

The debate was attended by around 30 participants: Students of the Faculty of Medicine, and academic staff. It was organized at the Faculty of Medicine UES, on Tuesday 12 September 2017, in one of the faculty classrooms.

This dissemination activity was opened by the project team member Ranka Perućica, MA who welcomed all the participants and thanked them for their supportive involvement in these project dissemination activities. She also gave a short summary of the project, and then spoke about the objectives, outcomes and results after the second year of the project life, informing them of possible benefits project offers to students in particular.

After all this was presented to the participants, the teacher opened the discussion for the present students and academic staff for their potential participation in the programme of student mobility, as well as in other project activities. In addition, students are asked to leave their contact numbers and email addresses for possible future collaboration, and were given dissemination material prepared for them.

Next activity

Next dissemination activity will be organized at the beginning of October 2017.
